Love is Respect

10 year Anniversary!

Love is Respect is the February 2017 campaign for National Teen Dating Violence Awareness and Prevention Month.

Did you know?

One in 10 high school students has been purposefully hit, slapped or physically hurt by a boyfriend or girlfriend.

Girls and young women between the ages of 16 and 24 experience the highest rate of intimate partner violence — almost triple the national average.

Though 82% of parents feel confident that they could recognize the signs if their child was experiencing dating abuse, a majority of parents (58%) could not correctly identify all the warning signs of abuse.

Educate Yourself!

"Loveisrespect's purpose is to engage, educate and empower young people to prevent and end abusive relationships." It has "information and support to concerned friends and family members, teachers, counselors, service providers and members of law enforcement."

Visit loveisrespect.org and under the "Get Help" tab, click on "Help My Child" to learn warning signs of abuse and ways that you can help!

Get Support and Get Involved!

Free and confidential help is available 24/7, 365 days a year:
